

NDF Administration Limited (in administration) ("NDF") and Defined Returns Limited (in administration) ("DRL")

Andrew Hosking and Martin Ellis of Grant Thornton UK LLP were appointed Joint Administrators of NDF Administration Limited (in administration) ("NDF") and Defined Returns Limited (in administration) ("DRL") on Wednesday 14 October 2009.

1. How do I keep up to date?

The Joint Administrators are reviewing the financial position of both NDF and DRL and will provide updates on this website when there is new information to report. Grant Thornton website <http://ndfa.creditorhelpline.co.uk>
NDF and DRL telephone no: 0844 770 2203

2. Message from the Joint Administrators

Following our appointment as Joint Administrators of NDF and DRL, we will work with the Financial Services Authority ("FSA"), the Financial Services Compensation Scheme ("FSCS") and other bodies to help protect investors' and creditors' interests as well as the assets of NDF and DRL.

Our priority is to confirm that investor funds have been segregated from those of NDF and DRL. Based on the limited information we have seen to date, we understand this to be the case, however we need to confirm that this is correct. In the short term, whilst we undertake our investigations, investor cheques will not be banked.

Furthermore, investors will not be able to redeem their investments and/or receive income payments under their respective product plans, until this investigation is complete. This is being conducted as a matter of urgency.

We will be writing to all investors shortly. Investors do not need to take any action at this stage.

3. What does this mean to the value of my investment?

The appointment of the Joint Administrators should not affect the value of any investments made in NDF products or any insurance products which you may benefit from.

4. Will the administration of my investment be affected by the appointment of the Joint Administrators?

The Joint Administrators have received assurances from Opal (the company administering the products) that they will comply with their current obligations into the new year.

The Joint Administrators are currently in discussions with Opal and the FSA to ensure the administration of the investments through to maturity.

5. What do NDF and DRL do?

NDF provides own branded structured financial products, ISA mortgage products and pure insurance plans to investors, both through Independent Financial Advisors ("IFSs") and direct sales.

DRL is the plan manager for a number of third party branded structured financial products.

In both cases these products are invested through financial institutions. NDF and DRL deal with approximately 35,000 investors.

The administration of these products is undertaken by Outsourced Professional Administration Limited ("OPAL"), a company that continues to trade and is not part of the insolvency process of NDF and DRL.

6. What products did NDF and DRL distribute?

A summary of all products distributed by NDF and DRL is set out below.

7. What if I have taken up an offer in a product which has yet to reach its investment date (i.e. the underlying security has not yet been purchased)?

There is one NDF product, Defined Income Plan August 2009, which is closed for subscriptions but the funds have not yet been invested. The funds are due to be invested in the underlying securities on 16 October 2009.

The following NDF products remain "open". Investors have subscribed and the plans remain open for subscription, but no investment have yet been made in the underlying securities:

The Royal Deposit Plan

The Autopilot Plan

The Navigator Plan

The Skyline Plan

We understand that any money you have invested in these products has been placed in a client money account. This means it is held separately from NDF's own money.

8. Will the above plans be invested as per the application form and issue document?

This is currently being considered as part of the Joint Administrators' assessment of the business.

The Joint Administrators are in discussions with the FSA and the issuer of the relevant securities to determine whether these investments will proceed in light of the appointment of the Joint Administrators. You will hear from the Joint Administrators prior to any investment proceeding.

9. Why did the directors place NDF and DRL into administration?

The directors formed the view that both NDF and DRL were insolvent due to the substantial level of potential liabilities of the companies. Consequently, they appointed Joint Administrators to protect the assets of NDF and DRL, and investors. The Joint Administrators have assumed control of the company.

10. Are investor monies segregated from the companies assets?

We understand that client accounts are maintained to hold investor monies. This means that investor monies are held separately from NDF and DRL's own money.

11. What action should investors in NDF and DRL products take?

At this stage, investors do not need to take any action and the Joint Administrators will be writing to all investors shortly. However, investors should refer to this website for the most up to date information in relation to the administration.

We understand that there will be uncertainty among investors, but it is essential that we have time to stabilise the business.

In relation to products where a regular monthly contribution is being made, you should be aware that stopping these payments will likely terminate any insurance cover under those plans. You may wish to take advice if you are considering doing so.

12. What will happen to cheques not yet banked?

If and when we are in a position to resume the banking of cheques, they will be paid into segregated client accounts.

13. Are NDF / DRL still open for new business?

Our appointment has effectively suspended NDF's and DRL's business. This suspension is so that we can fully assess the situation and act in the best interests of all investors, creditors and employees whilst the assets are protected. It is the Joint Administrators' duty to preserve the value of the business and maximise realizations for the creditors of NDF and DRL. This may include the disposal of the business as a going concern.

14. What is the FSCS?

The FSCS was set up under the Financial Services and Markets Act 2000 as the fund of last resort for authorised financial services firms. It exists to protect customers of authorised firms that are unable, or likely to be unable, to pay claims against them. This is usually because the firms are insolvent or have stopped trading. Relevant financial services firms are authorised by the UK's regulator, the Financial Services Authority (FSA). The FSCS is a non-profit making, independent organisation, funded by compulsory levies on authorised firms.

Further information about FSCS is available at: www.fscs.org.uk

15. Is FSCS able to pay any compensation following the failures of NDF and DRL?

The FSA determined NDF and DRL to be "in default" on 14 October 2009. This means that the FSCS can be satisfied the firms are unable, or likely to be unable, to pay claims against them. A determination of default opens the way for consumers to claim compensation from the FSCS.

The FSCS is liaising with both the Joint Administrators and the FSA to understand as much as possible about the activities of the firms which might give rise to valid claims for compensation.

It is too early for us to say which plans and which investors could be eligible for compensation. However, FSCS has commenced its investigations into certain investment plans sold by the firms which were backed by the Lehman Brothers Group. FSCS's preliminary findings indicate that at least some of the marketing materials used by the firms may not comply with their regulatory obligations and may therefore give rise to valid claims. With the assistance of the FSA and the Administrators, FSCS's investigations and analysis into these plans is ongoing.

You do not need to contact FSCS at this stage. FSCS will work with the Administrators to identify investors who may have suffered a loss as a result of their dealings with the firm(s). If there is compensation to pay, FSCS and the Administrators will work together to ensure that these investors know what to do.

16. I have an outstanding complaint with FOS, what should I do?

Complaints that were being considered by the Financial Ombudsman Service at the time that NDF and DRL went into administration will be transferred to FSCS, and will be considered by the FSCS under their Rules and limits. The FOS will write to investors once these cases have been transferred to FSCS.

17. My investment was in a non-Lehman backed structured product. What action should I take?

Investors do not need to take action at this stage. The Joint Administrators will keep NDF and DRL investors updated on progress through the website and helpline set out above.

18. My investment was in a Lehman Brothers backed structured product. What action I should take?

The Joint Administrators are currently in discussions with the FSA and the FSCS in order to consider the implications of the insolvency for these investors.

The Joint Administrators will update investors impacted by the collapse of Lehman Brothers as soon as possible.

19. What if my investment has recently matured, but I have not received the return of my capital?

We understand that the proceeds of your investment will be held in an NDF client account. The Joint Administrators will write to investors shortly once their investigations into these accounts are complete.

20. I have other plans with NDF and DRL. What action should I take?

ISA's and insurance products are provided by third parties and NDF simply arranged these on your behalf. If the product you bought requires you to make regular payments to the insurer or provider you should continue to do so in order to maintain your benefits. The Joint Administrators will contact you shortly.
